

Do Your Civic Duty By Voting for the Bonds On Oct. 6

- 1—The high school is so crowded that the best work is no longer possible. Nearly 700 students are working with facilities made for 350 students. Next year it will be worse. Our high school is growing at the rate of twelve per cent a year.
- 2—Most grammar schools are overcrowded and many children are receiving instruction in shacks. Shacks are something to be ashamed of. They are firetraps, a big waste of money, and temporary expedients at the best.
- 3—This $850,000 bond issue will give us a new high school large enough to care for our future needs, with every facility for giving the students the work to which they are entitled. And which the law requires them to have.
- 4—The money received from the purchase of the Junior High School from the Grammar School district will enable the Grammar School Board to make necessary additions to badly crowded schools, do away with shacks, and place our schools on a par with schools in other communities.
- 5—We cannot expect to attract new factories and new families to this community unless we offer proper school facilities. Oakland and Berkeley offer us keen competition in this regard and we must meet that competition or we lose out.
- 6—The 40-year bonds spread the burden over an entire generation. If we do not vote the bonds, the law will compel the school Board to levy direct taxes to provide the necessary facilities, which will be more shacks and a waste of money.
- 7—The tax to pay off these bonds, 14 cents a hundred, is only $1.40 a year for a man having property assessed at $1,000. In no other way can a parent spend a small amount of money on his children to such good advantage.

DEMPSEY SIGNS TO MEET WILLS

NILES, (Mich.), Sept. 29.—Wrangling that has extended over a period of years was put to a stop tonight when Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion of the world, signed articles to defend his crown against the persistent negro challenger Harry Wills.

The articles call for a ten-round no-decision contest promoted by Floyd Fitzsimmons of Benton Harbor, Michigan, somewhere in the United States, some time in September, 1926. It is understood that forfeits aggregating something over $300,000 were posted by the principals and promoter as evidence of good faith.

The agreement was reached shortly before 6 o'clock, however, and all parties concerned, accompanied by newspaper correspondents then motored to this city which is just across the Indiana line. The purpose of this was to legalize the contract as boxing is allowed in Michigan but not in the neighboring state.

High School Bonds Discussed at Mass Meeting Last Night

The high school bond issue formed the topic for discussion at a public mass meeting held under the auspices of the Roosevelt Junior High School Parent-Teacher association, last night in the Roosevelt auditorium.

A large sized crowd of interested citizens was on hand to hear the proposed bond issue outlined by W. T. Helms, city superintendent of schools, and Principal B. X. Tucker, of the Richmond Union high school. Mrs. L. G. Eby, president of the P. T. A., presided over the meeting.

A program given early in the evening included selections by the Richmond high school band and the high school boys glee club. Community singing was led by Mrs. Louise Robinson, musical director of Roosevelt school.

Y.M.C.A. DRIVE REPORTS SHOW GOAL IS NEAR

The sum of $7700 was reported pledged in the Y. M. C. A. Financial Campaign at the report meeting last night. Due to press of other business on the part of a majority of workers, the amount reported did not correspond with previous reports of the campaign.

However, considerable money in pledges has been promised workers for today, and a banner report meeting is expected tonight, when the teams will again meet. It is expected that the total amount contributed at the meeting will be well over the $8000 mark.

Rail Improvements Result From Pact

That the San Francisco-Sacramento Short Line railway will profit greatly from its track line agreement with the Western Pacific, was indicated by announcement of terms of the pact. Provision is made that the Western Pacific build the Lishorn-Clarksburg branch, costing over $500,000 and to be finished next summer. The Western Pacific is to own and pay for the road, which will be turned over to the Short Line on a lease basis and the Short Line will operate it.

In return for a payment of $220,000 in rental plus a car mileage fee the Short Line will permit the Western Pacific to operate and compete for business over the tracks from Sacramento to Walnut Creek. The Western Pacific will later finance the construction of one or two other branches, possibly into Livermore from Walnut Creek, and into the Napa Valley from the Short Line main line.

COST TO RUN STATE SHOWN TO BE HIGHER

The cost to run the state government departments during the fiscal year ending June 30, was $14.14 per capita, according to statistics compiled by the United States Department of Commerce.

This is considerably greater than the 1923 per capita cost of $12.89. The per capita cost in 1918 was but $7.18.

The total revenue of the state for the year was higher, having averaged $17.36 per capita. Payments on permanent improvements, which are not included in the year by year cost of maintenance and operation, made this necessary.

The Department of Commerce report shows that the actual cost of government for the year was $54,551,389. Included in this were $18,825,889 in appropriations for education to the minor civil divisions of the state. In addition to the cost of government was $18,589,377 for highway construction and maintenance.

The report shows that the net indebtedness of the state at the end of the fiscal year was $91,980,605, or $23.85 per capita. The per capita debt was $21.72 in 1923, and $12.19 in 1918.

NEW BAND STAND TO BE BUILT IN MEMORIAL PARK

With the summer schedule of concerts over, the Richmond Municipal band is preparing to open the fall season, Director A. A. Hart, announced last night after the rehearsal of the band members in Musicians hall.

A new band stand is to be erected in Memorial park especially for these concerts, before the band appears again. The work on the stand will be started in the very near future, Hart declared.

The enthusiasm and interest shown in the concerts has been manifested throughout the past season by the number of people who attended at the somewhat inconvenient stands at Ninth street and Nevin avenue and in the West Side.

Grass Fire Causes Much Black Smoke

Numerous telephone calls were made to the Richmond Fire department shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when a dense cloud of black smoke was rolling into the sky from the San Pablo district.

It turned out that the smoke was caused from the burning of waste oil at the Certain-teed Products corporation plant. Acting Chief J. J. Barry investigated and found that the blaze was caused from a spreading grass fire. This conflagration broke out when workmen on the Southern Pacific lost control of a rubbish fire. The oil was kept under control at all times and no property was in danger.

JUDGES SCORED BY W. H. MARSH

Declaring that "a little less playing for votes and a few more good stiff jail sentences would do more than anything else to solve the traffic problem," Will H. Marsh, chief of the state motor vehicle department, in an address to the annual convention of the California Peace Officers' Association Monday launched a vigorous attack at judges who exact light fines for a serious infractions of the motor vehicle laws.

Marsh cited the case of one judge who fined a violator $25 for wrecking a car while intoxicated and menacing the lives of a dozen people. He added that "a little backbone would help a lot of our week-kneed judges, as some of their fines are ridiculous."

High School Bonds Carry Eight to One

New High School To Be Built In John Swett District At Once

818 VOTE FOR, 97 AGAINST

Complete Returns Show Overwhelming Majority For Bond Issue

With a vote of more than eight to one the John Swett High school District which includes Crockett, Rodeo, Shelby, and Port Costa yesterday voted for a high school bond issue of $450,000. School authorities who have been boosting for the bond issue stated that the bond issue will take care of the construction of a new high school which is to house four hundred students.

The new structure is to consist of four parts, according to W. H. Weslar, the principal, an auditorium, administration building, gymnasium and a large shop.

The final count on the election was as follows:

	YES.	NO.
Rodeo	95	7
Shelby	50	2
Port Costa	112	22
Crockett	561	10
TOTAL	818	97

When informed last night of the success of the High School Bond Issue at Crockett W. T. Helms superintendent of Richmond Schools stated:

"If Crockett and the surrounding community with their small assessed valuation can carry a bond issue of that size surely this district cannot afford to do otherwise. If that community can afford to give their children the best in education we certainly can do the same here."

Kensington Park To Discuss Bonds

The high school bond issue will be discussed at public meeting to be held in the Kensington Park school this evening at 7:30 o'clock. All residents of Kensington Park are urged to be in attendance.

FULL UP ON REDS

In view of the fact that we have a surplus stock already of native born and naturalized communist agitators in the United States, the state department ruling, with the approval of President Coolidge, to refuse admission to Saklatvala, a British communist who was coming to attend the sessions of the Inter-Parliamentary union, is not apt to work any great hardship to our body politic. There will, of course, be an outcry from the so-called liberals, who, while they derive their living in the United States, spend most of their time decrying our government, but the people as a whole approve.

It is well for us to remember that the Inter-Parliamentary union, of which Saklatvala is a member, for all of its imposing title, is not an official body. Therefore, in refusing entrance to this particular gentleman, we are not affronting the British government, because he does not represent it. The Inter-Parliamentary union, and the convention which they are to hold in Washington, is purely a voluntary affair. Anybody who belongs to a parliamentary body is entitled to membership, and all members have a right, paying their own bills, of course, to attend its convention.

The American congress has made an appropriation of $50,000 for the entertainment of these gentlemen this year, but that is a matter of courtesy. In short, the delegates are simply glorified Cook's tourists who are paying their own expenses and who have no status other than that of ordinary visitors. It is interesting, as an aside, to know that the most thankful for the attitude of the American authorities in excluding Saklatvala are the men and women who are going to attend the sessions.

GREAT MEN

In his still well-known calendar of the world's great men, from the dawn of history down to about 1820, Auguste Comte included only 559 names.

And to get this number he included such tiny stars as the American novelist, Fennimore Cooper, the English dramatist, Thomas Otway, and the Italian composer, Donizette.

That many men who might be called great are not recognized is one conclusion that may be drawn from this. Doubtless this is true today. The man who invented the typewriter has affected the lives of millions. Judge by the benefits he has conferred this inventor might well be called great. But how many know that the typewriter, was devised by Christopher Sholes, a collector of customs at Milwaukee, in 1867?

That recognition of greatness is an accident is another conclusion to be drawn from the old list of the world's great men. Men are much alike, however greatly their achievements may vary. Greatness, one may conclude, is merely a label attached to a few who are little different from their fellows whom none call great.

A California man has discovered a force that will burn holes through two inches of steel a mile distant. He does not claim that it will puncture the self-esteem of the bumptious, however.

We win the international golf cup, but do they compensate for our loss of the nineteenth hole?

Even the man who is deaf to reason can hear money talk.

Another fine thing about travel is that it teaches you to appreciate home.

The knocks in the motor is heard more distinctly when it is idling. This is also true of mortals.

Blouses of Gold and Silver Lace or Colored Satin Are Included in Some of the New Velvet Ensembles.

THE separate blouse is trying very hard to roll on the stage of fashion and so far it seems to have succeeded. However, it is not very easy to tell a blouse when you see one nowadays, and such words as blouse, bodice, tunic, jumper, overblouse, casquin and casaque are used rather indefinitely. Sometimes, of course, a blouse is part of a jumper frock, sometimes it is part of a three-piece ensemble, and sometimes it is just a blouse.

A very few years ago the feeling prevailed that a separate blouse was most appropriate for morning wear, and sport wear generally, but that it wouldn't do at all for afternoon—and of course not for evening. Now, however, a good many women cling tenaciously to the one-piece frock for morning and sport, but consent to the blouse or casquin idea for afternoon. And there actually have been evening frocks consisting of slip and overblouse.

In the collections of new French clothes there are numerous afternoon blouses. One of the French dressmakers showed a white casquin heavily embellished with rhinestones to go with a black velvet suit. The old prejudice against a blouse of different color from the skirt seems to be passing. Sometimes the casquin or casaque is of silver or gold lace—long sleeved and sometimes high-necked—and giving the appearance somewhat of a coat of fine chain armor.

Drecol of Paris plays a new tune when he offers long-sleeved blouses entirely of suede, which are worn over skirts of pleated kasha.

Long-sleeved, high-necked blouses of satin have a rather medieval appearance. The skirt shows an interesting model of this sort, made of copper colored satin with green and metal embroidery, giving the effect of chain and pendant.

Here a copper-colored satin blouse is worn with a dark green velvet skirt. Green and metallic embroidery on the blouse gives the effect of chain and pendant.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

MAKE SOME DEVONSHIRE CHEESE

IT is odd, isn't it, how something that the people of one country look upon as a great dainty, can pass almost unheard of in another country.

Take Devonshire cream. The English have such a fondness for it that in the war when an order was passed that no one might have it without doctor's orders, it seemed like quite a hardship.

In London and other parts of England you can buy real Devonshire cream sent direct from Devon, and usually it is thus bought "ready made." But you can make it yourself.

An English recipe book gives the rule essentially as follows: The milk should be allowed to stand for twelve hours in winter and about half that length of time in summer. The milk pan is then set on the stove, and should remain there until the milk is quite hot, but it must not boil. The time required depends upon the size and shape of the vessel containing the milk, and the amount of heat applied, but small rings on the surface of the milk indicate that it is sufficiently scalded. When the process of scalding is completed the vessel should be transferred to a cold place and kept there until the following day, when the cream is skimmed off into pots.

Another authority stipulates that the milk should be rich. Skimmed milk won't do at all. It should be allowed to stand "as long as possible without going sour." Remember that if the milk has actually become sour it won't do, either. It is suggested that the pans of milk be set on tiles on the stove to prevent burning, furthermore says this expert, the milk must be given a half an hour to come to the near-boiling point. To be exact, the milk must be brought to a point about thirty-seven degrees below boiling. The English country woman who makes her own Devonshire cream, however, become quite expert at telling when to remove the milk from the fire without using a thermometer. Our second authority further tells us that the milk should be cooled as quickly as possible—a good way being to set the pans in cold water, frequently changed.

As it may have occurred to you, this is not unlike junket—only with junket the rennet tablet or liquid is used to hasten the thickening process—and always with Devonshire cream the solid portion is used while the watery residue is discarded.

"THE WIFE WHO WASN'T WANTED" with Irene Rich in a picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Mannering, with Diane Reed, and another couple, are driving to Calhoun's Inn after the close of a country club dance celebrating Bob's twenty-first birthday. Bob is at the wheel with Diane leaning over him when the car crashes into a roadster, injuring a woman. The party is taken to a police station, where the sergeant is trying to fix responsibility. Meanwhile, Mrs. Mannering and Margaret Patterson, who is in love with Bob, are following.

"All right, I haven't time for your life's history now." A new emphasis crept into the sergeant's tones. "But there was something wrong in that car long before you hit the roadster. The motorcycle policeman's report proves it. He trailed you for several miles. He says you were all over the road and nearly in the ditch a dozen times. What I want to know is, who was driving?"

For an instant Theo seemed upon the point of speaking. Then, with an effort, he sealed his lips, opening them only when the keen gaze of the sergeant seemed to bore into his innermost soul, to mutter nervously, if ungrammatically, "It wasn't me, sir, no, sir, it wasn't me."

Now the stern gaze of the sergeant shifted to rest upon Diane. Bereft of her usual coolness and composure, she seemed to shrink, a trembling, terrified girl, under its severity.

"Were you?" he demanded. Apparently she could not meet his eyes. Her own swept the room as if in frantic search of aid in her plight. Suddenly she shook her head wildly.

"No, no!" she cried. Then, quick as a flash, turned upon Bob, and her accusation rang out, unmistakable in its clearness, "He was!"

Again that same air of perplexity seemed to have claimed Bob. At her words he turned towards her and looked straight into her eyes. It was a strange look. There was bewilderment and pain in it. The world had changed so suddenly for him. His happy, care-free life seemed very far away.

But she, who had merely related a fact, seemed to flinch and quail under his glance, the police and self assurance which had been such a part of her being forgotten.

With never a word Bob turned from her.

And still, as if not fully satisfied with what she had done, Diane turned back to Theo and grew almost hysterical in the persistence of her accusation.

"It was he, it was Bob who was driving! Wasn't it, Theo? You know he was driving, don't you, Theo?"

Under her questions Theo shifted nervously upon his feet, shot a frightened glance at Bob and finally stared at the stern visage of the officer of the law as if fascinated.

"Yes—it was—" His voice trailed off into a whisper.

As if satisfied, the sergeant frowned and gave his attention to Bob.

"If that woman dies, Mannering, it will take all of your pull to get you out of this mess."

"Died!" It was as if Bob could not believe his ears. Indeed, as if there were very much about the situation in which he found himself which he could not reconcile. Now a sudden movement of the sergeant and a sound from the door attracted his attention. John Mannering entered. Plainly shaken by anxiety, his face was ghastly white, and he paused for an instant as if to collect himself for the ordeal which was to follow. Then he moved forward, to stop before Bob and gaze into his face.

Yet such was his emotion that he seemed at a loss for words. What thoughts were his at the moment? Inured by the experience of years to similar scenes amidst such surroundings, the meaning of it all must have recurred to him with redoubled force. Here was the machinery of the law erected by the people of the state for their own protection, just as he had been chosen by these same people as their sworn representative in the enforcement of their laws. To him these proceedings had always had a solemn majesty, his part in their equitable application a solemn trust. His to see that the clear course of justice was unswayed, its penalties applied without fear or favor. Yet now, within the very shadow of the law, with its firm clutches poised above him, stood his son—the pride of his heart, the hope of his coming years.

Within him John Mannering's high sense of justice, his cold, judicial mind was arrayed against his heart; his professional honor was set off against his parental love. And even more, for there was Ellen, his own beloved, to whom the welfare and happiness of the boy was dearer than life itself.

Under such circumstances it was not strange that John Mannering's lips were sealed as he faced his son. What words could express his thoughts? What sentences could picture the battle waging within his breast?

Yet even amidst the turmoil of feeling which shook him he must have taken pride in the bearing of his son. For at that moment Bob carried himself bravely and met the gaze of his father unflinchingly.

Only for a moment did John hesitate before his son. He moved towards the sergeant, his face grim and resolute. Leaning towards that official, he was again a lawyer, the chosen representative of the people considering the facts laid before him calmly and dispassionately and, most remarkably, all under the circumstances, personally.

So he was engaged when again the door was opened and Ellen appeared.

"Bob!" she cried at sight of her son, and again, "Bob!" Headless of all else in the room, she rushed towards him with outstretched arms.

He stiffened, flushing hotly at sight of her, but as she reached him and gathered him in her arms he yielded promptly to her embrace.

She clasped him to her breast, giving expression to countess unarticulate expressions of endearment and patting him fondly upon the back.

Suddenly she drew back and gazed anxiously into his face. "You are not hurt, Bob?"

"He shook his head. "But in that awful wreck how did you ever manage to escape without a scratch?"

"I don't know," he whispered huskily.

"It was marvelous—it seems almost too good to be true. All the way here I have been thinking, picturing the most dreadful things which might have happened to you, dear—fearing to find you hurt in some awful way. Perhaps it would be just as well if we have a doctor look you over—there might be internal injuries!"

"Haven't a scratch, mother, honestly."

Once more she enfolded him in her arms. Her son was safe and sound. Beside the wonder of her relief over that fact all else mattered little. But now, as she released him, she seemed to give some thought to his surroundings and to her husband at the police sergeant's desk.

"Did you ever hear of such a narrow escape as Bob had, John?" she asked.

"It was marvelous," he agreed, but there was a curious restraint in his manner as he spoke.

"The mere shock of such an experience must have been terrible," she continued.

"Tower of Lies" Is Showing At The California

Norma Shearer, Lon Chaney and Victor Seastrom

The trio responsible for the tremendous success of "He Who Gets Slapped" has made another master drama that will take its place among the really great film productions of the year, according to critics and leaders of the industry who have already witnessed screenings of "The Tower of Lies" which comes to the screen of the California theatre for two days starting today.

As in the aforementioned, "He Who Gets Slapped," Seastrom has again crossed the Atlantic for a vehicle of similar dramatic forcefulness. "The Tower of Lies" is an adaptation of Selma Lagerlof's famous Swedish novel, "The Emperor of Portugallia," and possesses all the ingredients—love, hate, humor, tragedy and romance, necessary in the making of powerful drama of the sort that has distinguished Seastrom's former works.

In the supporting cast are such popular celebrities as William Haines, Ian Keith, David Torrence, Claire McDonald, Edward Connelly, Leo White, Anne Schaefer and Bodile Rosing.

Other features on the same program include "The White Wings" featuring the screen's funniest comedian Harry Langdon; "International News," Larry Canelo at the organ.

One of the most bizarre costumes ever seen in motion picture is said to be worn by Aileen Pringle in "A Thief in Paradise," the new First National picture coming to the Richmond theatre starting today.

Solid ropes of pearls form the Chaphanous skirt, headpiece and bodice. A huge cape of silver net-trimmed with pearls complete the beautiful affair.

It is said that eighteen thousand pearls were used in making the costume. Practically every dealer in Oriental pearls on the Pacific Coast was emptied of his stock.

Allen symbolizes a pearl in an exotic dance staged on the ocean's bed, twenty feet undersea. It forms one of the many novel scenes shown in "A Thief in Paradise." Donald Colman and Doris Kenyon are co-featured with Aileen Pringle in the cast, with Claude Gillingwater, Alec Francis and John Patrick heading the support.

Other features on the same program include "Big Business" an "Our Gang" comedy; "Prizma," a screen magazine.

Iron Thief Draws Thirty Day Trip

IMPROVEMENT OF SCHOOLS IS HELD VITAL NEED

Richmond people are urged to support the high school bonds in a statement by Charles S. Renwick, made public last night.

"We are making a strong bid for factories to come to Richmond," said Renwick, "and one of the best arguments we can make to a prospective new industry is that we have fine schools."

"Employers today, in seeking new factory locations, take account of other things than land prices and transportation facilities. They consider schools, churches, and housing conditions. If any of these three things fall below par that city is handicapped in its efforts to get factories."

"We know of at least one factory that went to Oakland a few months ago because of the crowded situation in our schools, as compared with Oakland, where they last year voted nine million dollars for more schools."

"If we should announce to the world next Wednesday that we have voted these bonds down, it will give the city a distinct setback."

"If, on the other hand, we can announce that Richmond has voted bonds for a large new high school and to make necessary additions to the grammar schools, we shall tell the world we believe in getting ready for the future of Richmond."

"Aside from the fact that it will be wise economy to vote these bonds, we cannot afford, from a community point of view, to turn them down."

"It is the duty of everyone interested in seeing Richmond go ahead to go to the polls next Tuesday and vote for the bonds."

Garbage Problem Still Puzzles El Cerrito Council

As yet no means for the disposal of the garbage in the city of El Cerrito has been found and the board of trustees are now waiting for a proposal of the Richmond Scavenger company for the collection of garbage.

City Attorney T. M. Carlson stated Monday night that he expected a reply from the scavenger company by next meeting night. Carlson also suggested that some local person might obtain the franchise for the garbage disposal and be able to make a good profit.

El Cerrito Council Grants Plant Permit

The application of the Oakland Concrete Products company for a permit to construct a $6000 plant at Fairmont avenue and the Santa Fe tracks was granted by the El Cerrito trustees, after they had been assured that no dust would be caused by the new plant.

The company will make all kinds of concrete products, including hollow tile, partition tile, face brick and roof tile.

108 YEARS OLD, HE NEVER DRANK WHISKY BUT USED IT FOR PEPPY FOOT BATH

FIREMEN MEET KEYS IN FIFTH GAME FRIDAY

After everybody thought it was all settled, written in the books and forgotten, the Richmond Keys and the Richmond Fire department have reopened their seemingly everlasting struggle for supremacy and incidentally the self termed championship of this metropolis.

Four times the two nines have met in conflict. Three times the Keys were trampled in defeat but at the fourth try the Keys triumphed and claimed the city's pennant.

Now comes Chief Cooper, Captain Bill Grady and their hosts with everything they possess backing their declaration that they can beat the Keys. The Keys are acquiescent.

The game was arranged for Friday morning at 11 o'clock at First street ball park. Outside officials will be obtained and the game played in all fairness to both contestants, a procedure that was not carried out before, according to the losers.

Chief Cooper will not be in Richmond on Friday so Captain Grady will handle the affairs of his warriors. He will use the following lineup: Jiggs Wright, pitcher; Huzefka, catcher; Hathaway, first; Merriam, second; Grady, third; Davidson, short; Marvin, left field; Moore, right field; and Imbach, center field.

The Keys have not divulged their lineup but it is almost a certainty that Slim Nemith will hurl and Don O'Loan catch.

It is also certain that "Kid" Hoagland will not be used to warm the bench. He has been hitting at a percentage that has been the envy of his teammates and confidence is expressed in his ability to continue. Also in the outer garden, where Hoagland roams errors are few and far between.

Navy Not To Abandon Hope For Sub Crew

expected to be recovered during the night by divers who are working in relays of three men each, in the sunken submarine.

The men whose bodies were found today were Engineer John L. Gibson of Grotona and William Charles Teschemacher of Bangor, Pa. They were hoisted to the surface early in the forenoon and were at once placed on a destroyer and taken to the Newport Naval hospital. Their families were notified.

Teschemacher was one of the twins of the S-51, his brother, Frederick Peter Teschemacher, being also among the missing.

Both Gibson and Teschemacher were sleeping in the battery room of the ship when drowned, and it was there that divers today found the two bodies.

The diving operations began before daylight today and followed closely the plans laid down yesterday during rehearsal held on board the S-50, which is a sister ship of the S-51. Three divers, Harry Reinhartsen, William Reid and William Lilka, went down specially equipped for the hazardous work and the dangerous mission of entering the open hatchway of the wreck.

Officers refused to give the definite allotment of the three but it is understood that it was Reinhartsen who actually went into the wreck, the other two acting as his assistants.

Plan to Kill King George Is Discovered

son-Hicks, Commissioner of Police Sir William Horwood and the head of the so-called "Special Branch of Scotland Yard, Sir Wyndham Childs, regard the plot as a very deliberate attempt to create consternation in the British Empire, though they hesitate to say it is fostered by the leaders of a communism in Russia.

Three weeks ago Sir Wyndham Childs received from Superintendent McBrien, officer in charge of Scotland Yard, information that the crime was being planned.

A police courier rushed the information to Lord Stamfordham, the king's secretary, who warned his majesty.

Since King George has been at

FILLIES OFFER COMPETITION IN TIJUANA DERBY

TIJUANA RACE TRACK, Mex., Sept. 27.—There always is an added glamour and intense sentiment to be found in turf doings when a filly or mare, popularly declared to be the less consistent of the sexes, achieves the high honor of winning a notable stake. The gallant victory of Regret in the 1915 running of the Kentucky Derby enlivens turf history as a somewhat outstanding accomplishment. Regret was the only filly to ever win this classic since its first decision in 1875.

The addition of the Tijuana Oaks to the list of first flight stakes at the Tijuana race track this season has been given hearty approval by many horsemen. It brings up for discussion the question of a filly's chance to win the Tijuana Derby, which will be worth approximately $25,000 to the victor.

The Tijuana Oaks, having $6,000 added money, is exclusively for three-year-old fillies. It is to be decided Feb. 26. The distance is one mile. It is quite likely that several fillies going postward in the Oaks will have been nominated for the Tijuana Derby. This rich fixture, also for three-year-olds exclusively, but for both sexes, will be decided just two weeks later, March 14. The Derby route is 1 1/8 miles.

It appears to many discerning horsemen that from out of the fine field of fillies expected for the Tijuana Oaks will come some that will furnish stiff competition to the male sex of runners in the Tijuana Derby. These point out that the Oaks at a mile may develop a filly capable of going the extra quarter mile required for the Derby.

Revival Continues At First Baptist

"But He Was A Leper" was the subject of a sermon delivered by Rev. Gideon Higginbotham at revival services held at the First Baptist church last night. Four members of the congregation were baptized by immersion.

Special vocal numbers were rendered by Miss Beatrice French and Jessie and Guy Smith.

Rev. Higginbotham will preach on "The New Bird" at tonight's services. A special prayer meeting will be held at the church at 7:30 o'clock. Cottage meetings will be held at the homes of Mrs. Young, 335 South Second street, and Mrs. Bert Kirkpatrick of San Pablo avenue, this morning at 9 o'clock.

Balmoral Castle, three chief police inspectors have been guarding him. With the co-operation of local police these officers doubled the whole guard around the castle grounds.

Military units chiefly composed of guardsmen on duty at Buckingham Palace have been warned by their commanding officers of the threatened attack on the king and the police responsible for public order in the neighborhood of the palace have been instructed to arrest on sight anybody loitering in their precincts for interrogation.

BEARS LECTURED

After calling his men who played and sat on the sidelines in Saturday's game to the field, Andy Smith opened class and went over play, defensive and offensive, in the Bear-Santa Clara game. For more than an hour he lectured and piled his chalk on the blackboard and when the men went out to practice they were a wiser crew with heaps more pep.

PITCHING TO WIN

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Pitching is expected to win the coming world series. The Senators problem is simpler than that of their rivals. Eucky Harris is relying upon his two great righthanders Walter Johnson and Stanley Coveleskie to carry his main burden while Bill McKechnie and Fred Clarke, co-directors of the Pirate tactics, will have half a dozen experienced men. Therefore the odds are in Pittsburgh's favor, but long will the scouts have to search before an equal is found for Johnson or Coveleskie.

HUGGINS OUT

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Manager Miller Huggins, of the Yankees, underwent a minor operation at St. Vincent's hospital yesterday. Announcement was made that he probably will be unable to appear on the diamond again before the end of the American league season.

DENNY MEETS LONG

Frankie Denny and Charlie Long meet in a ten-round bout at the Oakland Auditorium tonight. Both are in the pink of condition and have been working out in the gymnasium for two weeks doing their daily dozen and their trainers announced yesterday that both were in shape to step ten snappy cantos.

RAY IS A "BIG FELLER"

A few years ago when Ray Kerner was given his first baseball uniform when he was in high school in Oakland, he little realized he would be one of the mainstays of a contender for the world's championship of 1925. He "went up" the first of the season and has had a great season. He will probably have a chance to strut his stuff before the Senators in the classic of the year, the week after next.

STANFORD FINDS WEAKNESS

PALO ALTO, Sept. 29.—Subdued rather than daunted as a result of last Saturday's game, the Cardinals started today in the long drive of reconstruction. Stanford's right end was lamentably weak and the Stanford line lacks steadiness. These two facts were shown in the game with the Olympic club and they are to be eliminated immediately.

TWO TEAMS REPEAT RECORD

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—With the season in the major leagues all over, it is brought out that only two teams in the majors are in the same positions as they were last year at this time. Washington and Cleveland, first and sixth in the American respectively, are the pair who paralleled their 1924 pace in 1925.

G. V. Noble to Erect Cottage on Eighteenth

G. V. Noble will erect a $1861 cottage and garage on Eighteenth street, between Roosevelt and Clinton avenues, with D. A. Dodge as the contractor, according to a permit issued by Building Inspector E. E. Grow yesterday.

RICHMOND WILL PLAY TAMALPAIS

A lineup substantially the same as that used in all previous games this year, will be used to start the game with the Mt. Tamalpais Union High school football team on Saturday morning by Coach Ivan Hill of the Richmond Union High school.

The lineup is: Baldwin, center; Diamantini and Caldwell, guards; Hutchinson and Concannon, tackles; Gray and Carey, ends; Captain Bill Milicevich, and Mariola halves; Siegal, quarter; Borgstrom, full. Hill will take the following subs across the bay: Mitch Milicevich, Fisher, Dyer, Dalton, Holland, Sontella, Woods, Paul Vilalovoz, business manager, will accompany Hill and his men.

The game will start at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. Tamalpais defeated Petaluma, Richmond's nemesis, 7 to 0 so the locals realize what they have

Roosevelt Plays Union High 130's

The second game of the season between George Minger's Union High unlimited and Ivan Hill's 130 pounders of the Union High school will be played off Friday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock.

In the previous game Roosevelt was defeated 12 to 0 by the dashing Unioners, but of late these same Roosevelt men have acquired a little dash themselves so expect to be returned the victors.

The Junior eleven got off to a bad start the first of the season and were nearly left at the post in the season's running. But when they held the Mission High 130's scoreless last week they regained their confidence and are expected to give Hill's men a tough battle.

to buck. They figure if they can defeat the Mill Valley crew they will wipe out the stain of the Chicken city disaster.

INSANITY TO BE MURDER PLEA

Temporary insanity will be the defense plea of Joe Marcado of Valona, it was indicated yesterday on the opening day of his trial at Martinez for the murder of his common law wife, Frances Zamora.

That this would be his defense was evidenced during the examination of jurors by T. D. Johnston, defense attorney, during the morning session. Marcado, the defense will endeavor to show, was so consumed with rage and jealous hate of his brother, when he discovered, as he claims, that the latter was making an effort to break up his home and win his wife from him, that he lost all sense of reason.

Deputy District Attorney James F. Hoey is conducting the prosecution. It is believed that the trial will be concluded either today or tomorrow.

Richvale—Rice soon to be harvested in this district.

Two Additional Bodies Approve School Bonds

Fairmont and Lincoln Parent-Teacher associations give unanimous endorsement of the proposed bond issue of $885,000 for the purpose of erecting a new high school here at the special meetings called at the respective schools yesterday afternoon. President Mrs. Robert Wilson was in charge at Fairmont, while President Mrs. C. L. Theis conducted the Lincoln session.

SPEEDER DRAWS JAIL SENTENCE

J. B. Ephraim of San Francisco, will have five days in jail to meditate over his mistake of confusing Macdonald avenue with a speedway. Ephraim was arrested when caught traveling 40 miles an hour down the avenue. He was hauled before Police Judge C. A. Odell yesterday morning and fined $25 besides the jail sentence.

Judge Odell also fined C. H. Mayhew of Oakland $10 for speeding.

French Debt Parley May Be Concluded

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Unless the American debt commissioners are willing to see the light as viewed by French eyes and accept the terms laid down today by Finance Minister M. Caillaux within the next forty-eight hours, the French commissioners and their attaches will leave Washington and return to France without settlement of the question. It was learned from a high French official here tonight.

The negotiations for funding the French debt took an unexpected turn this afternoon when Caillaux was closeted with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Secretary of Commerce Hoover, members of the American commission for more than an hour.

Caillaux's visit to the Treasury was unexpected inasmuch as the French finance minister had earlier in the day called off a meeting between the two commissions so that the French could have more time in which to study the American counter offer.

NEW ATHLETIC CLUB DEDICATED WITH PROGRAM

With fitting ceremonies and a program of entertainment, the $2,000,000 home of the Athens Athletic club of Oakland, was opened last night. Hundreds of members, their families and friends, participated in the opening night's festivities and made a tour of inspection of the magnificent new quarters of the organization.

The celebration will continue for five nights, during which time over 3000 persons are expected to participate.

The ceremonies were opened last night by Joseph R. Knowland, president of the club, who made an address of welcome and introduced to the organization of the club and the construction of the club home.

Knowland said in part: "Completing the work necessary to attain this objective was almost a superhuman task. At the beginning of the period of our most intensive work it was apparent that our problem was one of highly organized co-ordination of the activities that had been assigned to the various committees. These committees, working hand-in-hand with the house staff, under the leadership of George D. Morrison, manager of the club, have made it possible for the club to open its new home at the time promised. It is an achievement of which everyone may be proud."

Dinner, dancing and entertainment features made up the opening night's program. The program for each of the other four evenings will be identical to that of last night.

Richmond members of the club include Wilbur S. Pierce, Thomas M. Carlson, Zeb Knott, Edward A. Burg, Stanley McDonald, Jackson H. Misner, Bayard Lang, E. M. Downer, Joseph Brooks and L. J. Thomas.

Non Support Is Given as Cause For Divorce Plea

That her husband, Noe Ciapucci, El Cerrito rancher gave her $10 in December, 1919, told her he was going out to hunt work and then went to Italy, where he remained for two years, was the charge made by Mrs. Mary Ciapucci in filing suit for divorce at Martinez yesterday.

Mrs. Ciapucci declares that during her husband's absence in Italy and since his return he has failed to provide for the support of her and their twelve children. She also claims that her husband told her that they were not legally married. On numerous occasions he struck and cursed her, she alleges.

Mrs. Ciapucci asked the court for an order restraining her husband from entering the home premises, explaining that she feared her life will be endangered when her husband learns she has filed suit for divorce. She asked to be awarded the home property valued at $5000, and an order prohibiting her husband from disposing of funds in banks in Oakland.

Club Mendelssohn Stages Successful Scholarship Whist

Memorial hall was the scene of one of the most successful card parties of the season yesterday afternoon when Club Mendelssohn staged its annual scholarship whist and bridge party. A large number of card players were in attendance to vie for the many silver prizes listed for the play.

The whist winners were the Mesdames Hamilton, Hislop, Hillyer and Bell. The bridge winners included Mesdames P. Neville, C. A. Troy, E. O'Brien and H. M. Calkins, Mrs. H. B. Jones of Berkeley won the door prize.

Club Mendelssohn holds the card party annually for the purpose of raising funds to provide dramatic and musical scholarships for worthy children of the city. The awards are made each January.

Katherine Garvin holds the present dramatic scholarship, while Sylvia Glineburg was the last winner of the music scholarship.

The committee in charge of the affair yesterday included the following: Mesdames Earl Scofield, J. Easton, H. E. Hammond, J. O. Ford, R. B. Jones, T. T. Cramer, Bliss Brothers and Raymond Clark.

Agency Government Is Scored by State Treasurer Johnson

are mounting higher each year," he stated.

"When Governor Stephens went out of office expenses had reached the high mark of $116,000,000, and in less than two years, they have mounted to the staggering sum of $137,000,000. Where the end is no one can see," he continued.

What is needed the speaker said, was that business principles should be applied to the conduct of the affairs of the state. That is what Johnson claimed he had attempted to do in the conduct of his office. When he took charge of the state treasurers office the income from it was $600,000 per year, and he had increased it to $1,900,000. He did not know he stated that he should be entitled to any particular credit for it, as it was his opinion that the people elected him to office to perform a service for them, and he had tried in every way to do this. At the beginning of his term public money was deposited in about 250 banks, and he now has money in 512 banks, many of them small ones where the money was being used in building up communities, and at the same time the state is receiving a legitimate revenue from it. All of the money on deposit in banks, and there is over $30,000,000 of it, is bearing interest at from three to three and three quarters per cent, Johnson pointed out.

Another matter that Johnson laid stress on was the manner of state taxation. Fundamentally it is all wrong he said. The gasoline tax is wrong, for if the state can place a sales tax on gasoline what is there to prevent it from imposing a sales tax on automobile tires or any other commodity.

Forcing surplus funds out of the taxpayers' pockets, also received the attention of Johnson. Budgets should be submitted as to the needs of the different departments and the amount needed should be raised, Johnson asserted. There is now a surplus of over $12,000,000 in the general fund, that should be in the hands of the taxpayers of the state, he declared.

President Wilbur S. Pierce introduced the speaker. Charles F. Donnelly was the chairman of the day and presented a unique program with Tom Catton announcer of radio station KFWI presenting a musical program of numbers by artists from the radio station. These artists included Riley Doran, baritone; Edwin Stock, tenor, and Miss Hazel McDaniels pianist.

Harley Carter captain of the Rotary Club baseball team issued a challenge to the Lions for a baseball game. President Pierce accepted the challenge and appointed Bert Carter to head the Lions Club team. The game is scheduled for a week from Saturday. Proceeds from the ticket sales are to go to the Y. M. C. A.
